Viñalesa Wine Group is a group of Spanish family wineries from different wine regions, united together to enter export markets. Our winery in La Mancha wine region is Bodegas Alcasor. Bodegas Alcasor is an emerging winery with a unique style in the La Mancha region. It has grown rapidly in Europe and Asia markets in the past ten years.

The wines are gaining more and more consumers because of its high quality and approachable prices. With a long history of vineyard growing tradition, the family owns nearly 100 hectares of vineyards, mainly Tempranillo, Airen, Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon and other grape varieties, of which Tempranillo is the representative variety. The young red wine made by Tempranillo has a pure color, pleasant fruity aroma unique of this variety and rich taste. The winery's efforts have paid off, winning awards in wine competitions, such as the Golden Award for the best Crianza in the 27th La Mancha Wine Competition in 2014 and as well Cuevas Reales Crianza won the Golden Quixote Award in 2016 and 2017.

What is special in our winery? Family owned business, which means we work fast and we are flexible. We combine tradition and modern techniques in wine-making: use of nitrogen throughout wine storage and wine bottling which minimize the contact of the wine with the oxygen, preserves fresh aromas and vivid color and gives long life to our wines.
