Winery history: In 1998 the Fuentes Family decided to establish the Finca Río Negro Winery, bringing back the famous but extinct wine tradition since the phylloxera arrived to the region around 1920's. It is located at the foothills of the Natural Park of the province of Guadalajara, 90 kms North East of Madrid and 60 kms south from Ribera del Duero.

The altitude of 1.000 meters, make us have one of the highest vineyards from our latitude to the North of Europe. In addition with a distance of 60 kms to the nearest vineyard, make us have a unique "terroir" reflected in all our wines. Our terroir is defined by extreme difference between day and night temperatures, wind, little insolation but with hard UVA rays and complex soils. Continental climate, with an annual average temperature of 12°C and 561 mm of rain.

We own 103 acres (42 hectares) of vineyards divided in 30 different plots. Only around 5.000 kgs per hectare are harvested, which means an average of 1,5 kg per vine.

Our grape varieties are Tempranillo, Tinto Fragoso, Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Gewürztraminer. We are completely state bottled, hand harvest and in conversion to ecologic.

What is special in our winery? Our terroir make us unique.
