Our wines are the result of the combination of tradition, technology and strict control over the whole production process. Vine growers and producers of wine for more than 100 years.

HISTORY: It was Francisco Isla Molina, who in the first decade of the XX century founded our winery with the confidence of being able to offer high quality wines.

His successors have maintained and renewed this dream until today. This combination of tradition, acquired knowledge and care for the land and its fruits, make Bodegas Isla one of the most firmly established wineries in Spain.

ENVIRONMENT: We are located into the renowned wine country of La Mancha, over one of the biggest aquifer in the country, 625m above sea level. Home to calcareous lands, ideal for the cultivation of the grapevine. Our countryside receives a large amount of sunlight, in summer and limited rainfall.

VINEYARDS: Bodegas Isla has 400 hectares of its own vineyards, with the Tempranillo, Garnacha, Airén, Macabeo, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Syrah.

What is special in our winery? Tradition, technology and process control. Vine growers and producers of wine for more than 100 years. The knowledge of our land and vineyards enables us to harvest the best grapes. Experience and technological adaptation turn them into a great wine.
