We are a family-owned winery managed by three generations of the Bellido family, with over 40 years of experience exporting to more than 35 countries around the globe. We are located in the heart of Castilla-La Mancha, at a small village called Manzanares.

We have done tremendous investments in order to improve our winery and our vine management in the past years. As of now, we have over 8000 oak barrels in our underground sustainable cellar, we have purchased some of the best plots of land in our region, increasing our land holdings greatly (over 100 hectares of family-owned vineyards now). We purchased new temperature-controlled tanks and new equipment, all under the supervision of our well-recognized oenologist, José Hidalgo.

We are adaptable and professional, guaranteeing our customers' satisfaction every time, which is why most of our partners have been by our side for over 30 years now. We wish to build strong long-term partnerships with good-hearted people who wish to work as a team in order to grow together and succeed.

What is special in our winery? We are pioneers, perfectionists and very team-oriented. Vinícola de Castilla was the first traditional method sparkling wine producer in Spain outside of Penedés, the first ones in La Mancha to introduce temperature-controlled tanks in our production line, which created a domino effect that drastically rose La Mancha's wine quality. We see our partners as our family, which is why we nurture our relationships so much, being highly perfectionists.
